ABSTRACT

In 1971, ECS conducted a survey of the basic legal structures and responsibilities of state coordinating or governing agencies and public institutional governing boards. This is a November-December 1974 update and expansion of that survey. It includes the 50 states and the District of Columbia. Part A covers the structure of the central or statewide coordinating/governing boards. Part B shows the basic responsibilities of these agencies. Part C concerns the structure of the central coordinating/governing boards, the public institutional, and the multicampus governing boards. (Author/KE)

In This Issue:

In 1971, ECS did a survey of the basic legal structures and responsibilities of state coordinating or governing agencies and public institutional governing boards. In response to requests from a number of states and individuals, the survey was updated and expanded in November-December 1974, and includes all 50 states and the District of Columbia. The areas covered in the survey, with page references, are summarized.

SURVEY OF THE STRUCTURE OF STATE COORDINATING OR GOVERNING BOARDS AND PUBLIC INSTITUTIONAL AND MULTICAMPUS GOVERNING BOARDS OF POSTSECONDARY EDUCATION — AS OF JANUARY 1, 1975.

Associate Director
ECS Higher Education Services

Part A: Page 298

Part A covers the structure of the statewide, or central, coordinating/governing boards. This section includes: (1) whether there is an office of secretary of education, (2) the type of agency — coordinating, governing or single board, (3) when the agency was established and amended, (4) whether the agency is statutorily or constitutionally based, (5) if the agency is a cabinet department, (6) whether the agency is the "1202 state commission" and if so if it was designated by statute or by the governor and (7) the manner of appointment and term of office of the executive officer.

Part B: Page 308

Part B shows the basic responsibilities of these agencies: (1) whether the agency has statutory responsibility for planning/coordination, or conducts these activities as a matter of policy, for public senior, junior, vocational, private or proprietary institutions; (2) if the agency has statutory responsibility for budget review and recommendation for public institutions, or only as a matter of policy; and (3) whether the agency has such responsibilities for program review and approval for public institutions.

Part C: Page 318

Part C concerns the structure of both the central (statewide) coordinating and/or governing boards and the public institutional and multicampus governing boards and is divided into three sections: Section C(1), page 318, includes the legal bases, number of institutions and number of full- and part-time staff; Section C(2), page 334, shows the number of board members, whether elected or appointed, for those appointed the representation and term of office; and Section C(3), page 349, indicates the number of student and faculty members on these boards, their manner of appointment, whether statutory, voting or nonvoting and term of office.

²¹ Approximately half are engaged in services which are often not supplied by central administration, such as educational television, student loans, computer services.
²² 118 persons responsible for administering the community colleges; remainder are engaged in supplying services customarily supplied at the institutional level.
²⁴ There are 14 public junior colleges — 8 state supported and 6 local and state supported — each with its own governing board.
